

Makiko Naka

Executive Director of RIKEN

Makiko Naka currently serves as RIKEN's executive director in charge of international affairs, communications, young researcher development, and diversity. Before joining RIKEN she served for fourteen years as a professor at Hokkaido University, and four years as a professor in the College of Comprehensive Psychology of Ritsumeikan University. Before joining Hokkaido University, she served as an associate professor at Tokyo Metropolitan University and an associate professor at Chiba University. She earned her Ph.D in psychology from Ochanomizu University, where she received a Research Award from the Japanese Psychological Association in 2006 and from the Developmental Psychology Association in 2022. She also received the International Award of Merit from the Japanese Psychological Association in 2020.

As of July 2022