

Brief Biographical Sketch

Anil Kottantharayil received the B.Tech. degree in electronics and communication engineering from the National Institute of Technology Calicut, in 1993, the M. Tech. degree in electrical engineering from the Indian Institute of Technology Bombay, Mumbai, India, in 1997, and the Dr.Ing. degree (summa cum laude) from the Universitat der Bundeswehr, Munich, Germany, in 2002.

From 2001 to 2006, he was with the Interuniversity Microelectronics Centre, Leuven, Belgium, where he worked on advanced microelectronics devices. Since 2006, he has been with the Department of Electrical Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology Bombay, India where he is currently a HAL R&D Chair Professor. His research interests are in the areas of silicon-based solar cells, PV modules, reliability, renewable integration, and energy policy. He has authored or co-authored more than 150 papers and conference presentations, and is an investor/co-inventor of more than 10 national and international patents in these fields. He is a distinguished lecturer of the IEEE Electron Devices Society and a Fellow of the Indian National Academy of Engineering. He is presently the Professor In-Charge of Photovoltaic Technology and Innovation Centre (POTIC) at IIT Bombay.
