

Georges Lobo, Ph.D.

Programme Manager – EU Policies, Interoperability and Digital Government Unit,
European Commission, Brussels, Belgium

1997 Ph.D. Université Paris XI, Orsay, France.

1998 -1999 Commissariat à l’Energie Atomique, Saclay, France

2000 European Commission

Georges Lobo holds a PhD in Particle Physics from the University of Paris-Sud. He researched Particle and Nuclear physics for 10 years before transitioning to ICT. He has worked at the Commission for 24 years, initially as a researcher and later as an Informatics Resource Manager. Since 2012, he has managed programs in digital technologies, including IoT, Network Technologies, Connected Automated Driving, and Smart Cities. Joining the Interoperability unit in 2017, he managed Digital Innovation in the public sector and GovTech. In 2022, he joined the Next Generation Internet unit, focusing on Digital Commons and Open Source innovation. He is currently in the Interoperability and Digital Government unit, concentrating on Semantic Interoperability.