

Dr Aidan Rhodes

Research Fellow, Imperial College London

Dr Aidan Rhodes is a Research Fellow based at Imperial College London. He is currently Energy Policy Briefing Papers Fellow at the Energy Futures Lab, working on preparing a range of accessible briefing papers on topics of relevance to energy sector policymakers and stakeholders. Dr Rhodes is an expert on UK energy policy and innovation strategy, with a particular emphasis on smart systems and networks.

2008	PhD in Analytical Chemistry, University of Durham
2008-10	Research Associate, Energy Systems, Imperial College London
2010-12	Knowledge Exchange Associate, UK Energy Research Centre
2012-17	Research Fellow, RCUK Energy Strategy Fellowship
2017-	Research Fellow, Energy Futures Lab, Imperial College London
2025-	Researcher, UK Energy Research Centre